Healthcare Sector.

Dear Ansh,

Congratulations on your very impressive achievement! I think the brilliance, ingenuity and thoughtfulness behind your project is commendable. I see you going far and making mark for yourself in life.

It is heartening to meet somebody as young as you, pick up problem in our healthcare industry, be concerned and empathetic towards those who suffer from consequences of inadequacy of healthcare facilities and try to devise a smart technological solution. Well done! You have demonstrated that you have a curious mind, willingness to explore and read and look at available scientific literature and then apply it to achieve desirable results, Your App is innovative and user-friendly and just a precursor of the many more inventions and discoveries that lie ahead for you. I will be closely watching your professional journey and I know you will make us all proud.

I wish you all the best for all your future endeavors. Keep up the excellent work.

Sincerely,

 Dr. Ravi Jasuja
